Excerpt: .further than Los Santos, and the troops returned to the investment of Badajos. Lord Wellington having arrived with the army of the south on the aist, pro. ceeded next day to reconnoitre Badajos with marshal Beresford. They were escorted by the two light battalions of the king s German legion, and two squadron of Portuguese cavalry. This escort was attacked by three regiments from the garrison, and some skirmishing took place, in which the Portuguese shewed great steadiness. It was said, however, that lord Wellington had a very unro escape, as at one time he was almost surrounded with the enemy s troops. The garrison of Alvas (Portuguese) had, with great labour, constructed a bridge pf boats across the Guadiana, und the siege of Badajos was about to cummracr, when, unfortunately, on the night of the 23d, this bridge was carried away by a sudden rise...
