Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Our First Old Home Day at Salem, Maine: August Seventeenth, 1904 To Old Salem I know a little village in the north Whose green fields now the white spring-flowers storm In curling waves of snow-white daisy-foam, Up-beating fierce in Spring s abandonment, Till all the lonely little village streets Are flecked with fragrant foam. I know a little village in the north From off whose rampart heights the clarion spring Flings far her yellow-throated messages And fair flower-blazoned heraldry, Till all the lonely little village streets Are sweet with minstrelsy. I know a little village in the north Which Abram shields against the winter s storm, Bold-squaring his broad shoulders to the blast, Kind sentinel, faithful unto the trust Of guarding all the sheltered homes below Where the Quick River runs.
