Winning on the North Side: The 1929 Chicago Cubs (Paperback)

By Gregory H Wolf

Society for American Baseball Research, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The best team I ever played on was McCarthy s twenty-niners. It was strictly power all the way. No tricky baseball. -Cubs first baseman Charlie Grimm This book celebrates the 1929 Chicago Cubs, one of the most exciting teams in baseball history. Bashing their way to the pennant by crushing their opponents in a high-scoring era, skipper Joe McCarthy s North Siders were an offensive juggernaut, leading the majors with 982 runs scored. Future Hall of Famers Hack Wilson, 29 NL MVP Rogers Hornsby, and Kiki Cuyler, along with Riggs Stephenson formed one of the most potent quartets in baseball history, collectively scoring 493 runs and knocking in 520. As awe-inspiring as the Cubs offense was, their pitching was almost as good. Charlie Root, Guy Bush, and Pat Malone anchored a staff that finished second in team ERA and led the league in shutouts. The Cubs magical season came to an ignominious conclusion when they faced Connie Mack s Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. Long before the lovable loser moniker was attached to the Cubs, Chicago s...
